MRS. HINCKLEY NERVOUS WRECK

Tell How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Memphis, Tenn.—"Twenty-eight years ago I was completely run-down and my nervous system was a wreck. I couldn't sleep a wink without waking, I could not do my work except a little at a time, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day some one threw me the book on my porch, and in it I read several testimonials of women who had been like myself. I went right out and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of that bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles, and then in about three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all of my own work and could do more. I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health."—Mrs. O. J. HINCKLEY, 215 Union Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Abnormal Conditions of Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. This book contains valuable information.

The second and last concert of the season by Gardner's Philharmonic orchestra will be given at the City of Oneonta Monday evening 8:00 and tickets may now be secured at Mahler's and at the theatre box office. Considering the price, 30 cents, or at any time, it is one of the largest offerings of the year. The way of conducting the orchestra and the audience will be limited to the seating capacity of the theatre. The program, an all-Schubert one, is one of unusual excellence.

The solo numbers will be rendered by Laverne F. Pierre and John Canning.

Violin solo, Ballet Music from Rossini's (transcribed by Kreisler), John Canning.

Serenade, (strings only), Laverne F. Pierre.

March, Military, No. 1, in D Minor.

Frans Schubert was very nearly the greatest of all composers. Had he not died at the early age of thirty-one he would have been the greatest. He was born in Vienna, Jan. 31, 1797, the son of a poor school-master, who had eighteen other children.

His musical education was not extensive but his enthusiasm knew no bounds. He was limited by a very peculiar fever, he was too poor to buy music paper. A comrade fortunately discovered this paper famine and generously relieved it.

Schubert was the most poetic, the most spontaneous creator among all the composers. One summer morning while breakfasting with a party of friends, Schubert picked up a book belonging to his comrade Tietze; it was Shakespeare's poems in a German translation. He began turning from page to page in his usual search for subjects for a musical setting. Suddenly he paused and read one of the poems over a few times. "If I only had music-paper here," he cried, "I have just the melody to fit this poem." Without a word, one of his friends drew the musical staff on the bill-of-fare, and handed it to the composer, and on this bill-of-fare, while waiting for breakfast, amid the chatter and confusion of a Viennese out door restaurant Schubert brought forth the beautiful "Aubade" or Morning Song. "Hark, Hark, the Lark."

He was a stupendous genius, he occupies a position only one degree short of the very highest. In the actual quality of his composition indeed there is not one who could be ranked before him. No composer in the whole history of music was more wondrously endowed by nature, whether one considers either the surpassing beauty of his ideas or the profusion of their supply.

At three o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 19, 1828, Schubert's short life ended. Well might it be said by Grove of Schubert that "there never has been one like him and there never will be another."

Final Rehearsal Sunday.

The last rehearsal of Gardner's Philharmonic orchestra, preparatory for the concert Monday evening, will be held at the Mazy theatre Sunday report at 2:30 o'clock. General rehearsal at 3 o'clock.

Keep a Nifty Upper Lip.

Wrestle on and smile on. Don't become cry babies. Self pity breeds despair and the strong don't indulge in self pity. They are too busy thinking and working to do something and I've been at it for 24 years. I may inwardly wince at the sneers of fools and half fools, but I don't flinch. As a result, I have helped several thousand little fellows to get out of the mucky mucky, self pitying class. Don't bore others with hard luck stories, but just send me $11 for January and $10 each month thereafter and I'll share with you up to date and I'll share with you up to date and I'll share with you up to date. You'll cut out the hard luck bunk. Yes, and I'll get so much pep into you that you'll forget all about the self pitying dope. Don't you hear people shout for me? Catch on. You can use the mail. I build up people as well as homes. Nuff said. I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. advt. 11.

It is hoped that the Company G band will also be on hand to furnish music between halves, and for the dance which will follow the second game.

Alb. Hermann, through whom the Colgate team was secured to play here, will be in the Colgate line-up, and in a telephone conversation yesterday, he stated that Fredson, who is well known in Oneonta Athletic circles, would accompany the team. This would be an added attraction, for although Dewey has not been playing regularly with the Colgate variety this season, his performance on the armory court last season will be remembered by those who saw the Colgate game, and it is certain that he will not weaken the team.

The Company G quintet has been practicing hard for this game and promises to make the best showing of the year against the team. Out of twenty-one games this season, they have been defeated only seven times, which is an enviable reputation for any team. There is great enthusiasm among the company members generally, and they will be on hand to support their team in what is expected to be, without doubt, the hardest game played by the military five.

Later announcements as to the Colgate line-up will be made, and everyone interested in good basketball should plan to see the fastest collegiate team in this section in action.

"DADDY LONG LEGS" REPEATED

To a Packed House Last Evening—Even More Successful Production.

"Daddy Long Legs" was repeated at the high school auditorium last evening to an audience which filled every seat and at least one hundred extra chairs. The production was even a bit smoother than that of Thursday and made a still deeper impression on the honor roll of high school plays. Miss Cowan, who has worked untiringly in the direction of the play, was called before the curtain and presented with a large basket of roses. The entire cast did even better than Thursday evening and were received more heartily. Stuart Pratt repeated the piano selections of the previous evening and by special request gave another selection which merited the long applause which it received.

The receipts of this year are above the average and with only slight expenses the Dramatic club of the High school should not be a slumber sum.

Following the last act all connected with the play sang the Alma Mater and gave the school yell on the platform.

MISSIONARY PAGEANT.

Founder's Day Fittingly Observed by First Methodist Ladies.

Founder's Day was celebrated by the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church last evening with some very interesting features which all of the 60 or more women present greatly enjoyed. The older women served a picnic lunch at 7 o'clock, a large cake bearing 19 candles typical of the number of countries in which missionaries of the organization are at work, being a feature.

Following the younger women gave a very interesting play entitled, "A Vision of the Past." In which was portrayed the circumstances and surroundings of the founding of the organization in 1863. The women participating were, Miss Bard, Mrs. Hemlin, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Frisbee, Mrs. Coats, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Dunbar, Mrs. Hoyt and Mrs. Clemens. They were attired in the costumes of that period and in every feature of the play was made typical of that time. It made an impressive pageant and all were delighted with the efforts of the women. The special thank offering, made as a tribute to the mothers of members amounted to $20.

CALLED TO LOCAL PASTORATE

United Presbyterian Society Invites Rev. James Thompson Verbis to Successor to Pastor.

Rev. James Thompson Verbis, who on May 1 next graduates from the Pittsburgh Theological school at Pittsburgh, Pa., was at Thursday evening, at a meeting of the society of the United Presbyterian church of this city, extended a call to become pastor of that church on the completion of his theological course. Rev. Mr. Verbis occupied the pulpit of that church on Sunday last, both morning and evening, and he made so favorable an impression that the call follows. It is hoped that he will accept, although no answer has yet been received from him.

Rev. Mr. Verbis is a native of a small village near Cincinnati, Ohio, and prior to his entry upon his theological course he graduated from the Muskingum college at New Concord, Ohio. He is 24 years of age and is married. He has been highly commended to the local church by the faculty both at Muskingum and at Pittsburgh.

Perhaps one of the most important factors in the determination reached in the endorsement for the position given to Mr. Verbis by Rev. Dr. W. B. Smiley, former pastor of the local church, Dr. Smiley has visited the Theological school and personally investigated the graduating class and he recommends the man chosen as the best equipped member of the class.

Those who heard Mr. Verbis on his recent visit here are united in hoping that he will accept, confidently looking forward to a successful pastorate here.

FUNERALS

George A. Long.

The funeral of the late George A. Long was held from St. Mary's church yesterday morning and Father William D. Noonan conducted a requiem mass for the deceased. The services were largely attended, the members of the Rollmaker's union and the ladies' auxiliary to that union attending in bodies. There were many beautiful floral offerings including one from the Knights of Columbus, the Rollmaker's union, the Mitchell and Silver Street schools, the telephone operators, and the attaches of the Woolworth store.

The relatives from away in attendance included James Tumlin and mother, George Hallinan, Mrs. M. A. Dillon and Miss Nellie Brogan, all of Scranton, Pa., and Mrs. Rodney Stewart of Syracuse.

The bearers were friends from the Rollmakers: Charles Williams, Eli Ford, Frank Bendell, William Keidel, Charles Carlson and Patrick Clune. The body was placed in the vault at Glenwood cemetery for interment later.

Police Answer Riot Call.

Early last evening the police department received a riot call to 206 Chestnut street. The entire department answered in the patrol wagon and found considerable excitement, that is August Otto seemed to be considerably excited. It seems that he and his young bride returned to the city last evening after their honeymoon and that neighbors kidnapped his wife.

And while other neighbors held Otto his wife was brought to the business section and royally entertained. The new husband became very anxious and the police found him surrounded in the center of the street. Upon his demand to arrest those who were keeping him from his wife, he was told that no arrest could be made by any officer than himself without a warrant, as he was the only witness to the crime.

Otto could not reach a justice to swear out the warrant, so he was forced to await the return of his bride.

STATE C. E. CONVENTION.

Report Being Made For a Large Reduction From Chicago.

Over two thousand Endeavorers will assemble in Oneonta, N. Y., next June, to celebrate the close of a year of unprecedented growth and prosperity. They will represent a constituency of approximately one hundred and fifteen thousand people "back home," who have made possible the success of this most impressive religious organization among the young people of the world. Under the leadership of such men as Dr. Francis E. Clark, its founder and president; Dr. Daniel A. Poling, associate president;

Alvin J. Shurtle, national secretary; William H. Brown, state president; Carlton M. Sherwood, state general secretary, and many able assistants in every state of the union, the Christian Endeavor has molded the religious thinking and developed the religious expression of thousands of young men and women throughout America.

These form but a small part of the millions who have passed through the school of church work organized by this great organization of over sixty thousand churches in this country alone. This constant growth in numbers, efficiency and popularity has necessitated programs of state and national as well as international scope. It is the function of conventions to launch these programs. The Troy convention will mark the close of a year of phenomenal growth in the Christian Endeavor work of this state.

The Oneonta county organization is endeavoring to arouse a lively interest in the convention, hoping to secure a large attendance from this section, to the end that the work of the organization may receive an impetus and experience a year of even greater accomplishment in the one year to follow.

C., going there as the representative of the American Southdown society, to confer with the United States Department of Agriculture and the British consul in regard to the transportation of the Southdown sheep to the United States. The society will use the Glimmerden flock.

The British Southdown Breeders' association, cooperating with the Ministry of Agriculture of England, is sending a flock of 274 animals, consisting of 50 rams and ram lambs, 220 ewes and ewe lambs. The individual animals, contributed by members of the society, are accepted only after the most rigid examination as to health and prize winning qualities.

When the flock arrives in the United States it will be placed in quarantine for two weeks before being shipped to Glimmerden farm.

CONDIGN TO AUBURN

Cecil Green Found Guilty of Second Degree Assault

ACCUSED ABLY DEFENDED

District Attorney Commends Fairness of Green's Counsel and Makes Strong Case with Convicting Whim—Days Green's Story Too Improbable for Belief—Jury Verdict New Trial Granted—Charges by Judge Welch Commended by Both Attorneys.

Cooperstown, Mar. 23.—Cecil Green was found guilty of assault in the second degree in connection with the death of John Chase at the drunken debauch at the home of Mrs. Green on Christian hill in the town of Hartwick in January last by the jury which had heard the case here this week and Judge U. G. Welch sentenced the convicted man to hard labor at Auburn prison for not less than four years and not more than four years and four months. It is expected that Green will be taken to Auburn on Monday to commence serving his sentence unless some legal steps are taken which prevent.

The morning was devoted to presenting the case to the jury. Former District Attorney David F. Lee, of Chenango county, who has conducted the defense, made an eloquent appeal for his client, declaring that even if the prosecution has proven all that it set out to do, there still exists grounds for doubt as to the guilt of the accused. He stressed that the memory of all the eye witnesses to the affair was cloudy, due to overindulgence, and that the jury was powerless to restore life to John Chase and that the boy who had been led into a period of debauch should not be punished for the death of which others were accessories at least if any guilt existed. He appealed to the sympathies of the jury for one who was the victim of circumstance.

District Attorney Peterson, to whom credit is due for making the most of evidence from rather unwilling witnesses in the main, made a clear forceful appeal to the jury. He went over carefully the evidence for the prosecution and compared it with that of the defense, alluding to the improbability of the story told by Green on the stand. He also called attention to the evidence of Mrs. Green, who while desiring to shield his nephew, yet could not bring himself to corroborating all that the accused had said and to his evident unwillingness to tell all that he knew to the jury.

Mr. Peterson took the unusual course of commending the conduct of the defense, voicing his appreciation of the fairness of Mr. Lee. Mr. Peterson called the attention of the jury to the fact that nothing prejudicial to the interests of the accused had been permitted unfairly in the case and that all possible for any attorney to do had been done for Green. Mr. Peterson, after calling the attention of the jury to the fact that all of the officers had denied absolutely that any "third degree" tactics had been employed to secure a confession from Green, then read his written admission of guilt in the case.

Judge Welch gave a clear resume of the evidence of both prosecution and defense and stated that the jury could also consider in addition to the manslaughter in the second degree as charged in the indictment, that of second and third degree assault and defined them. Both attorneys commended the fairness of the charges and neither took an exception. Mr. Lee asked for some additional charges, all of which were made with the exception that the court declined to charge that Green was an accomplice, that being a question for the jury to decide.

The case was given to the jury at 12 o'clock and they returned to ask further instruction later. They settled down to deliberating after lunch had been served to them and at 4:20 o'clock returned with a verdict of guilty of assault in the second degree. Sentence was then imposed. Mr. Lee moved for a new trial, which was denied. The question of an appeal was unsettled tonight. Under all the circumstances the outcome is considered satisfactory to the prosecution and justifies the action of the authorities in bringing the accused to trial. While no definite statement could be secured, it was rumored about the court house that the jury on the first ballot stood five for conviction, five for acquittal and two for second degree assault, the verdict rendered, therefore, being a compromise. Green, by good behavior, it is said, can reduce his term to a little more than 1 1/2 years.

At the conclusion of the Green case court was adjourned. The case of the People against Jake Setton of Index, for selling intoxicants illegally, which was to have been tried, was put over the term.

FUTURE OF SIDNEY GROVE.

Camp Meetings Grounds May Be Transferred to Wyoming Conference.

Reports say that an offer may be forthcoming from the backers of the noted Sidney Grove camp meeting grounds and recreation spot to convey that property to the Wyoming conference, and that it be managed by the conference, exclusively, as a conference center. This movement would result in closer cooperation between the conference and the various movements that now make their headquarters there, including the Interdenominational Tithers' association, the Epworth League Institute, Sunday School institute, and other centers. The grove is visited by thousands of people of all denominations during the open season, and is a delightful spot. The movement to convey the grove is said to have begun more than a year ago. But no official statements are forthcoming as yet, and all that the conference leaders have to say is that stories say such an offer may be made to them at the approaching session of the conference.

New Roadway Highway.
City Engineer Frank M. Gurney has been engaged by the town board of Sidney to prepare plans for a new macadam road to connect Sidney and Sidney Center. As soon as the survey can be completed and the plans prepared, bids will be asked for. It is not the intention to eliminate grade crossings, much as it is to be desired. It would doubtless prevent the construction of the road it included in the project.

SLIGHT FIRE AT HORNET.

Discovered in Cellar of Methodist Parsonage Early Friday Morning.
Hobart, Mar. 23.—Mrs. Robert J. Harrison thought that she smelled a fire when she awakened at about one o'clock Friday morning, and awakened her husband who went to the nearby Methodist parsonage. The house was filled with a heavy smoke and an investigation showed that there was a slight fire in the cellar.

Walter Rich, living next door, was one of the first to reach the house after an alarm had been sounded and he brought a small fire extinguisher. The fire was soon put out and there was little damage other than that of smoke and broken glass. A cottage occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rich was very near and considerable damage might have resulted had the blaze secured any more headway.

They have proved that Jewett Six will stand hard service under all conditions. Because it is the sturdiest car of its size or price—whether four or six. Because it weighs 2805 pounds—200 pounds more than "light sixes." Because it has a husky six-inch frame, with wide top flange, four rugged cross-braces, and high-duty Paige-Timken axles, front and rear.

Jewett owners have proved its wonderful reserve power, as well. Power that soft roads and stubborn hills never tax. Because Jewett has a Paige-built motor of fifty horsepower that literally fills the hood! The largest built for a medium-sized six. Running at moderate speed gives it long-lived dependability, free from usual wear.

These 25,000 owners have proved Jewett outperforms any car of its class. Because no car this size has 249 cubic inches piston displacement. Most power for weight within $200 of its price. In spite of its husky strength Jewett carries but 11 1/2 pounds of weight to each inch piston displacement, where comparable cars carry 14 to 16. The answer is easy!

They have proved, these owners, that Jewett doesn't overheat or get noisy. The hollow crankshaft high-pressure oiling system forces 2 gallons of oil per minute to all main and connecting-rod bearings. This best-oiled motor in a medium-sized car stays smooth and young.

These 25,000 owners, won in one short year from its announcement, have proved that Jewett Six has amazing pep and pickup. Accelerate from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds. Little wonder Jewett has shattered hill-climbing records the country over! Two miles an hour in traffic to 60 on the highway—in high gear. Flexibility that pleases all.

Finally, these 25,000 owners have proved Jewett unrivaled for easy riding and substantial comfort. Extra long springs, deep roomy cushions, wide seats, and substantial construction tell why. And Jewett has handling ease unequalled except in the Paige.

What these 25,000 owners have proved for themselves we shall be glad to prove to you. At your first convenience, see the big six value Jewett gives at $995!
